Skinny Skribbles

Around And About Town

With C. F. (Skinny) SKIRVIN

Dr. George W. Crane, who according to press reports and generally accepted information, has become a noted psychologist, has courage along with his other deductions. After observing the Easter parade along Michigan avenue, he says when the kind of hats they do because they never mentally grow up. That's a type of bravery rarely declared these days. He says the same tendency which leads a little girl to imitate big sister, continues as she grows up with the result she becomes a slave to fashion. Hence the kind of hats. I've got a few friends I would like to have the professor meet.

And then there was the fellow who got a ticket for running through a boulevard signal and when the traffic officer offered her another for repeating the offense, she said: "Oh, I got one this morning."

Deep drilling for oil is a subject interesting in Orange county, due to the prevalence of black gold. If hell is in the direction we think it is, looks like oil companies will get that far to get it.

To promote a larger interest in governmental issues a group of citizens have organized themselves into what they call "The Commonwealth Club," and on Friday evening of this week will listen to a discussion on "The Unimperial Legislature," by Prof. L. L. Beeman. The unimperial system is, as I understand it, a case of where "two hearts beat as one" where the couple moves into one house on the theory that you can save some overhead, along with other theories, of which politics is mostly constructed. But Prof. Beeman, who studies those issues, will tell you about it if you let him.

BRIDGE PLAN DISLIKED BY WEST ORANGE

Piling Type Bridge Denounced By Some

A boycott of Santa Ana merchants was threatened today by West Orange ranchers—if this city insists on rebuilding the old trestle-type boulevard bridge across the Santa Ana river.

West Orange farm center members went on record last night as denouncing the city's persistence in planning the piling-type bridge, which they claim aggravates flood damage by acting as a dam and catching debris.

The boulevard, they said, could get along without a bridge until Prado dam is finished. A "dip" across the river would be sufficient, they said, although traffic would be detoured as at present during high water.

C. H. Purcell, state highway engineer, said in a letter presented by C. J. Marks, executive secretary of the farm bureau, that the bridge did not cause any more damage than otherwise would have occurred. Center members debated the letter with a heated debate on ways of preventing the proposed rebuilding.

Marks was speaker, reporting on the bureau's economic conference March 14. Influence of large vegetable and fruit interests, he said, caused suppression of parts of the government findings on those products.

Cooperative marketing methods were criticized by Jack Crill, farm bureau state delegate, who said present ways of selling and distribution were "20 years behind the times."

The "biggest crop-in-history" story each year, he said, was the result of high estimates by packing house managers after a high prorate. He suggested unwrapped cartons of 8 and 15 oranges be used, thus reducing the purchases of many persons who otherwise would buy a half dozen or dozen.

FDR OKEHS LOW RENTALS

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Roosevelt, speeding recovery plans, approved today low rent housing and slum clearance projects to cost an estimated $40,728,825.

The projects, submitted by Nathan Straus, administrator of the United States housing authority, include two in New York City to cost $33,333,000 one in Louisville, Ky., $4,734,000; two in Augusta, Ga., $1,521,200, and one in Jacksonville, Fla., $1,140,625.

OFFICERS OF CITY 'FIRED'

Placentia Council Rehires Workers

All appointive city officials of Placentia, "fired" Monday night by a "reform" city council, were re-hired at an adjourned meeting, with the exception of City Attorney Thomas L. McFadden.

City Judge Sam Harmony, City Engineer George Bates, Police Chief Gus Barnes, Fire Chief Horace Lucy and all members of the street department were out of jobs Monday night, when their positions were declared vacant.

The "reform" movement apparently back-fired between Monday night and Tuesday, as the entire city staff with the exception of McFadden was re-appointed.

Roland Thompson, Santa Ana attorney and city attorney for Newport Beach, was appointed to fill McFadden's position. Two council members, holdovers from last year's board, Mayor C. E. Haiber and A. C. Schalles, opposed McFadden's release.

L. V. Steen and Walter McKeenan, re-elected to the council in the recent municipal vote, joined with F. R. Burns in the ouster movement.

No reason was given by the council for the drastic about-face last night.

Cops, Riot Guns, Fail to Get Owl That Claws Victim

The owl has struck! And it means war. Oliver Owl fiercely flattered from a tree in the 700 block on Bush street last night, attacking and severely scratching E. E. Wilson, 805 Bush street, as he was walking home.

Police gathered their forces. Officers B. A. Hershey, William Heard and George Boyd rushed to the scene, waving riot guns.

They couldn't find Oliver.

Kidnap Suspect's Trial Under Way

A jury of seven men and five women was to begin deliberations after lunch this afternoon which will determine the fate of Lawson O. Gist of Orange on three felony charges.

The jury was instructed by Presiding Superior Judge James L. Allen just before noon recess today, following arguments by Deputy Dist. Atty. Harold McCabe and Defense Atty. Fred Johnston. Gist is charged with kidnapping, robbery and grand theft against James K. Givens of Santa Ana, Feb. 25, when he allegedly climbed into his ribs and forced the motorist to drive several blocks before taking the car and personal property.

Broken Fire Plug Starts Minor Flood

The flood recurred in miniature on South Shelton street yesterday afternoon when water spouted forth from a fire-plug at Shelton and Fairview streets after Mrs. T. A. Bolte, 950 South Parton street, struck it.

Mrs. Bolte told police she hit the plug while trying to avoid an approaching car. City water department officials cleaned up the flood.

Laguna Hot Springs Doctor Fights For Hot Springs Park

Fighting to bring about completion of a plan to convert lands surrounding the San Juan Hot Springs into a national park, Dr. Thomas Spencer Miller, of Laguna Beach, announced at a meeting of the Coast association there last night that he had appealed to President Roosevelt, his personal friend, for approval of the project.

Battling unexpected opposition to the plan, which would include convalescent homes for infantile paralysis victims and pools for underwater treatment similar to those in Warm Springs, Ga., Dr. Miller refuted arguments presented in a resolution adopted recently by the South Coast Improvement association.

Fear of spread of disease was

Alert

General Pershing is shown above as he arrived in New York last night in Laguna Beach, where delegations from Newport and Huntington Beach urged state purchase of nearly three miles of ocean front between the two cities.

W. J. Bristol, speaking for the combined groups, urged a county-wide drive for acquisition of the land, which he warned may be cut up and sold in parcels by the present owners, thus creating a situation similar to Los Angeles county beaches, where private ownership denies use of the ocean front to visitors.

The proposed purchase would include a long strip of waterfront running between the Santa Ana river and the east city limit of Huntington Beach, a distance of between two and three miles.

The state park commission has indicated great interest in possible purchase of the property, and it is believed a concerted county drive would result in state purchase and maintenance of the beach. W. H. Gallienne of Huntington Beach said today.

General Pershing is shown above as he arrived in New York last night in Laguna Beach, where delegations from Newport and Huntington Beach urged state purchase of nearly three miles of ocean front between the two cities.

He was reported looking "spry." He declined the use of a wheelchair.

12 Juvenile Home Boys Honored as Boy Scout Troop

The county's strangest Boy Scout troop came into being last night.

Twelve shiny-faced youngsters gulped nervously, grinned and saluted briskly as Superior Judge H. G. Ames—who sent them there—pinned tenderfoot badges to their new Scout shirts.

They are charter members of troop 37, sponsored by the Civilian club for the juvenile home. Only the best-behaved may be Scouts.

Civitan members presented a large American flag to the new troop, after Judge Ames said: "My feeling tonight is envy—envy that you boys have an opportunity which I did not. . . I hope you always observe the oath and laws you have recited. . ."

Engineers Plan S. A. Meeting

Sixty members of the Orange county engineers' club are expected to attend the monthly meeting of the organization Friday evening in the Green Cat cafe.

Part of the program will be taken up in showing slides and motion pictures relative to the construction of Los Angeles Sanitary district's outfall sewer tunnel beneath the San Pedro hills, and other phases of the work, according to City Engineer J. L. McBride.

First Heat Death Of Season Listed

EL CENTRO, (AP)—The Imperial county coroner's office today listed Luther Hughes, 60, as the first heat death of the season. Hughes succumbed while working on his ranch near Holtville. He had lived in the Imperial valley 21 years. The maximum temperature yesterday was 104 degrees compared to 105 the previous day.

78 Children Flee Mission Flames

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Seventy-eight children awakened by smoke were hurried to safety early today as fire swept the union mission. The blaze started in a linen closet near the children's wards but was under control before the big brick building was completely evacuated.

TRAIN VICTIM CUT IN PIECES

Inquest Scheduled; Friend Identifies

Cut to ribbons under the wheels of a westbound Santa Fe train near Irvine station yesterday, the body of a man identified as that of Luis Zamora, 31, 433 Adams street, Santa Ana, lay in a Santa Ana mortuary today, where Coroner Earl Abbey pressed an investigation of what he termed an apparent suicide.

Identification of Zamora's body was made shortly before noon today by Herman Zabel, county identification chief, from fingerprints in the record bureau files. He had been tentatively identified by Josephine Quintana, a friend who told Abbey the clothes "looked like" those of Zamora, missing from his home since Sunday. The tragedy occurred at 5:28 p. m. yesterday between Irvine and Como stations.

An inquest will be conducted at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

HINT MITCHELL CHINA BOUND

Possibility that Ralph John Mitchell, 42, wealthy orange grower in the Irvine district who vanished more than a week ago, is en route to China to serve as a pilot in the Sino-Japanese war, was voiced today by friends and relatives of the missing rancher.

Mitchell frequently had hinted he would like to go to China, friends told The Journal.

In event he were heading for the war zone, it was believed he may have had to go to New York first to straighten out some papers and take new examinations for a pilot's license.

Mitchell's wife, Mrs. Bonnie Mitchell, meanwhile, was awaiting word from her husband, who left his ranch home on Tuesday of last week, later abandoning his car at Albuquerque, N. M., and wiring his wife that she could send for it there. The car since has been returned.

Man Kills Wife, Self at Beach

LONG BEACH, (AP)—A middle-aged husband killed his wife and himself, police reported today, leaving a note that "I lost my head—it happened so suddenly."

The dead are Frank N. and Mary St. John, each 52, who came here a year ago from Minneapolis.

Officers found the woman's body, stabbed in the neck and shoulder, in a bedroom of her home last night. St. John, a used car dealer, was hanging from a rafter in another room.

300 Killed in Turkish Quakes

ANKARA, Turkey, (AP)—Three hundred persons were killed and 20 villages were shaken to the ground by violent earthquakes in Central Anatolia, reports said today.

It was feared the total casualties would be much larger when a count of the dead and injured was completed.

The quakes were felt all Tuesday afternoon at Ankara, the capital, and at Konia, Kirsheir and Kayseri.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Roosevelt, expanding his recovery drive on still another front, discussed with fiscal advisors today how private utilities could be helped to finance new construction and provide jobs.

He took up the question at a White House conference. Just before he did so Harry L. Hopkins, Works Progress administrator, indicated in testimony at the capitol that he was preparing to increase the relief load during the first seven months of the next fiscal year beginning July 1.

Appearing before the house appropriations committee to tell how he proposed to use $1,250,000,000 of relief funds requested by the President, Hopkins said this sum would be sufficient to care for 2,800,000 persons until Feb. 1, 1939, or 200,000 more than are now on the rolls.

Giving an idea of the extent of relief expenditures, the senate unemployment committee reported today that from 1933 to 1937 $19,300,000,000 had been spent for this purpose. Of this amount $14,200,000,000 came from the federal treasury while state and local governments contributed $5,100,000,000.

In its report to the senate, the committee said enactment of flat rate taxes on corporation incomes and capital would be "exceedingly helpful" in creating employment for 12,000,000 or more now idle.

The flat rates have been urged by business but condemned by the administration.

The subject of new construction by private utilities was explored by Mr. Roosevelt in a conference with Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, William O. Douglas, chairman of the securities commission, and John W. Hanes, member of the S. E. C.

Largest Volcano In Japan Erupts

TOKYO, (AP)—Mount Asama, Japan's largest and most active volcano, erupted today with the biggest shower of stones and ashes in six years.

Rocks the size of watermelons rained on the slopes and villages nearby, causing a forest fire which raged for eight hours. Police prohibited mountain climbers from going up the slopes.

The last eruption was March 25 after a year of inactivity.

Rancher Loses Life In Bridge Crash

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Clara Goss, charged in a $155,000 breach of promise suit today that Edward Eldridge, wealthy Brawley, Calif., cattleman, induced a physician to sterilize her during an appendicitis operation.

The comedy plaintiff asserted she met and married Eldridge in 1931 soon after her sixteenth birthday, believing he would fulfill his promise of marriage.

While they lived together, the suit stated, she became ill and was robbed of the chance for motherhood without her consent.

FDR to Address 'Daughters' Meet

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Roosevelt agreed today to make a brief informal talk tomorrow afternoon before the convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The announcement of the President's talk was made as the Daughters were settling down to their convention business after a flurry of social events that left capital hotels, cab companies and florists a little dizzy.

TO H--- WITH GRAND JURY, SAYS WEST

Action May Mean Delay in Settlement

Loss of thousands of dollars in fees until 1942 faced county taxpayers today, as supervisors threw a wrench into legal machinery designed to test validity of their bulletted salary ordinance.

If courts find one thing improper in the board's method of collecting fees formerly retained by individual officials, the fees possibly could not be collected for four more years. If the ordinance is valid in all respects, it would go into effect as of last year.

The board late yesterday defied District Attorney W. F. Menton and appealed to Attorney General U. S. Webb to prosecute their fee cases in a stormy session which included a statement by Supervisor N. E. West.

"To h--- with the grand jury!" Menton already had prepared a mandamus suit against Sheriff Logan Jackson to be filed directly in the appellate court, which would get quick determination of the controversial fee clause.

DELAY COSTLY But supervisors, in causing the delay by appealing to Webb, put taxpayers in danger of losing the fees for another four years. If the method of seizing fees in the ordinance is illegal, the law must be amended to be in force 90 days before the general election of Nov. 8. That would make effective date of the amendment not later than Aug. 8. An ordinance must be passed 30 days before it can be effective, which would make it July 8 at the latest that the amendment must be passed if it is to apply to officers elected this year.

If legal procedure is not taken quickly—and appeals and court (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

P-T. A. FIGHTS 'DANCE' RUM

PASADENA, (AP)—The nation's largest P-T. A. group, representing 47,545 members in Los Angeles county, exclusive of the city of Los Angeles, started a drive today to abolish public dance halls where liquor is sold.

Meeting 1000 strong yesterday, in the first district, California Parent-Teacher association, voted to ask the Los Angeles board of supervisors to ban such dance halls as evil influences to juveniles.

Also scored were outdoor advertisers of intoxicating liquors who employ pictures showing youths or young women engaged in drinking. The association decried motion picture "double features," saying that frequently undesirable films of low standard were foisted on managers to be shown in combination with films suitable for children.

MASONS BRING MEET TO CLOSE

SANTA MONICA, (AP)—Their six-day convalece ended, York Rite Masons returned home today with plans already being made to attend the 1939 sessions in Oakland.

The state convention selected Oakland as its next meeting place in the final session here yesterday. Augustus Kempke, Oakland, was elevated to the office of right eminent grand commander of the California Grand Commandery, Knights Templar, succeeding Oakley K. Morton, Riverside.

Woman Aerialist Killed in Stunt

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—One woman aerialist was killed and another gravely injured when they fell from the top of a 96-foot ladder during practice for a carnival act last night.

Hurled to the ground when the ladder whipped loose from a wire support, Eva Hudnall, 26, formerly of Savannah, Ga., died of a broken neck.

Isabel Roberts, 21, of North Vernon, Ind., suffered a crushed chest and possibly internal injuries.

PSITTACOSIS DEATH

LONDON, (AP)—Psittacosis (parrot disease) was officially blamed today for the death of W. J. Sprunt, zoo keeper at the London Regent's park. It was the first case at the zoo in its 100-year history.

CAPITAL GAINS TAX REPORTED 'HELPFUL' IN PROMOTING JOBS

Senate Approves Flat Rate Assessment On Corporation Incomes! Condemned By FDR

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The senate unemployment committee reported today enactment of senate-approved corporation income and capital gains taxes would be "exceedingly helpful" in making jobs for the nation's 12,000,000 and more unemployed. At the same time, the committee reported that relief expenditures for 1933-37 aggregated $19,300,000,000 of which $14,200,000,000 came from the federal treasury and $5,100,000,000 from state and local sources.

SPAIN REBELS DRIVE SOUTH ALONG COAST

HENDAYE, France (at the Spanish Frontier). (AP)—Unable to crack at once a well-placed government defense at Tortosa, Spanish insurgents today drove southward along the 18-mile front toward Castellon and Valencia.

Gen. Miguel Aranda's troops neared the outskirts of Alcala de Chivert where a secondary feeder road from Albocacer joins the coastal highway, after advancing 12 miles along the 18-mile front.

The new offensive threatened the chief coastal cities of southern government Spain.

At Alcala de Chivert, the insurgents had covered almost half the 40 miles from Vinaroz to Castellon and almost a quarter of the 83 miles from Vinaroz to Valencia.

Field officers said they expected little difficulty in taking Alcala de Chivert, a town of 6000 population which they said is strongly Carlist.

Insurgents said they had taken "enormous quantities" of field guns, machine guns and hundreds of thousands of cartridges and assorted munitions in the Tortosa area.

The death of Colonel Cebollino, commander of the second insurgent cavalry division, wounded in action west of Tortosa, was announced by the insurgent command at Irun.

California is growing more than fruit and flowers and vegetables. It has a growing relief tax which will pull the house down on our heads if it isn't checked. Too many people are devising ways and means whereby they can attach themselves to the state relief rolls to portend a healthy financial situation. What we want is self-sustaining citizens. Not citizens to be sustained.

The All-Year club was created to include the entire twelve months in its repertoire of attractions for tourists. Originally California stressed the winter season.

The Disaster Loan corporation began furnishing flood rehabilitation money this week to Orange county residents who have applied for such assistance.

The owner of a Santa Ana dairy, for example, received $1000 through this federal agency for the purpose of repairing flood damage done to a tractor, a truck and corral, as well as replacing cattle food which was washed away.

The proprietor of an auto court in Orange has received a similar sum of money for rehabilitation work there, and an orange rancher now has funds to clear away flood debris from around his trees.

Thirty-four loan applications have thus far been sent from the Orange county office of the corporation to Los Angeles and Washington for approval according to S. L. Rodgers, field representative.

Those granted this week were among the first applied for when the office was established in the Ramona building here. Applications are still being received at the Santa Ana headquarters.

The interest rate on the loans is low, the terms are comparatively easy, and the service is for flood victims who are unable to borrow money elsewhere.

DEALER ACQUITTED

Petty theft charges against R. L. Dalton, Santa Ana second-hand dealer, were dismissed in Santa Ana justice court today on a compromise agreement in which he was to pay $7.50 to the court for partial reimbursement to Mrs. Harriet Caston, complaining witness.

Driving Japanese Offensive Thrusts Back China Troops

SHANGHAI, (AP)—A driving Japanese offensive today thrust back the Central China army in two major battles along the 50-mile front in Southern Shantung province.

The offensive checked optimism Chinese had shown with their victory at Taierchwang, and it appeared they were making a last stand in the province—more than three-fourths of its 56,000 square miles nominally under Japanese control.

The two battles were along the Lini front on the Yi river and at Hanchwang, southwest tip of the front. A Japanese said they captured Lini and Chinese admitted loss at Hanchwang.

Japanese capture of Lini put them in position for a reorganized drive against the vital Lunghai railway, China's east-west trunk line.

The intensity of the Japanese offensive indicated Lini was subjected to two days of aerial bombing and constant artillery shelling before the final infantry assault.

The Japanese said this incessant pounding shattered one corner of the walls, enabling troops to fight their way by hand to the top and pour a heavy fire upon the Chinese defenders below.

Chinese had reported a force of 60,000 marching for the attack on Lini, a short time before Japanese announced its capture. The Chinese admitted they retreated from Hanchwang before an overwhelming Japanese attack during the night. Chinese had claimed its capture only yesterday.

The Japanese offensive was designed to utilize Lini as the base for a quick drive to decapitate Japanese force, barricaded in nearby Yihsen and under repeated assaults by Chinese.

FEE SQUABBLE GOES TO WEBB

delays may cause considerable loss of time—the county treasury may not get the officials' fees until 1942.

STARTS FIREWORKS

Yesterday afternoon's stormy board session was touched off when Clerk B. J. Smith read a letter from Menton.

Referring to Supervisor John Mitchell's wish to import Edgar Hervey, San Diego attorney who helped Supervisor West escape ouster on bribery charges last month, as special counsel to press the board's suit against "fee officials," Menton wrote:

"It is not my intention to request the board to employ special counsel and consequently the board will have no legal right to employ special counsel and make such a charge against the county. . . . I have been directed by the board of supervisors to bring appropriate action to determine the question involved. That action is ready to file and intend to proceed along that line."

MENTON ATTACKED

Seathing criticism of Menton's attitude and conduct of his office was heard from Mitchell and West who leaped into the fray after the letter was read.

"His own office is in question," retorted Mitchell. "Mr. McCabe, I understand, is going right ahead with his private practice, although the ordinance prohibits it and Mr. Menton assured me he would require his deputies to stop private practice."

(Harold McCabe, senior deputy below Asst. Dist. Atty. Preston Turner, is the only member of Menton's staff still carrying on private practice for compensation. He also is city attorney of La Habra, and has been mentioned as a possible candidate for Menton's job, although he refuses to confirm or deny the reports.)

TEST ASKED

Mitchell insisted that all questionable clauses of the salary ordinance be tested, including vacations, sick leave, private practice and date of operation, in addition to the fees. He asserted Menton had told him there was "no objection" to hiring of outside counsel to assist, although there was "no necessity for it."

Should the attorney general refuse to step into the local picture, which observers considered would likely be the case, Mitchell indicated he would go ahead with plans to hire Hervey or other outside counsel.

Relying on Section 4041.22 of the political code, Mitchell said he believed the board had the right, by a two-thirds vote, to employ special counsel to direct prosecution of its own court actions.

Menton was directed several

War Implements Paraded for Hitler Birthday

BERLIN, (AP)—Picked units of the German army paraded before Adolf Hitler today as all Germany celebrated the Reichsfuehrer's 49th birthday.

Unparalleled scenes of nationwide rejoicing took place as the German people, still mindful of Hitler's triumphs in accomplishing his rank as commander-in-chief, Austrian soldier, marched in the birthday parade in Berlin.

The Fuehrer, wearing the simple brown uniform of a Nazi storm trooper, with nothing to indicate his rank as commander-in-chief except the gold oak leaf in his cap, reviewed the parade from a podium before Berlin university's main building.

Apparently the chief purpose of the demonstration was to show Germans and the foreign military attaches that Germany's weapons are formidable. The second half hour of the parade was devoted to displaying motorized weapons of the most deadly sort.

Persons wishing to attend the Santa Fe station dedicatory dinner in Orange at 6:30 p. m., May 2, can make reservations through the Santa Ana chamber of commerce.

TO H—WITH JURY

The vote on appealing to Webb was unanimous, with Supervisors Mitchell, West and Finley voting aye. Supervisor Willard Smith, as chairman, did not vote. Supervisor Harry Riley, lobbying in Washington, was not present.

After West had called efforts by "certain officials" to discredit supervisors and the salary ordinance "anarchy," Supervisor Steele Finley grinned and asked:

"How about the grand jury?"

"To H—with the grand jury!" flared West. "When they cease being stooges for special interests, I'll be glad to go before them."

AFL Teamster Recovering From Gunshot Wound

ALAMEDA, (AP)—An AFL teamster's helper was recovering from a gunshot wound today and a man who said he wanted a job to guard the Shepherd Line freighter Sea Thrush, involved in a jurisdictional labor dispute, was in jail.

Angelo Guinnaso, 41-year-old helper, was wounded in the arm and Police Inspector Lloyd Wendlund said Jordan Gammon of Emeryville admitted firing the bullet.

Guinnaso was on a picket line with members of the unaffiliated Sailors Union of the Pacific which had demanded that the Shepherd Line employ its members. Company officials said the line was under agreement to employ CIO national maritime union seamen.

Steel-helmeted police patrolled the Embarcadero terminal when the Sea Thrush docked yesterday after moving from San Francisco where 20 men were injured in a riot between CIO longshoremen and SUP members Monday.

MOTHER DEFIES 'KID' COOGAN ON CLAIM HE EARNED $4,000,000

Young Actor Recalls Receiving Largest Check He Can Remember—$500,000 on Contract

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Jackie Coogan, highest-salaried child actor of the silent movie days, was challenged today by his mother, Mrs. Lillian Coogan Bernstein, on his claim that he earned $4,000,000 before he reached legal age two years ago. Mrs. Bernstein, resisting her son's suit for an accounting of his estate on the ground no such estate exists, filed an affidavit stating Jackie's earnings amounted to only $1,300,000. She contends that whatever money and property remains from his earnings are hers under the California law that gives a minor's salary to his parents.

FRANKING LAW VIOLATION LAID TO RUSSELL

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Representative Church (R., Ill.) suggested today that Horace Russell, resigned general counsel of the Home Owners Loan corporation, be assessed $300 for each letter he sent out announcing the legal services of a former HOLC associate. Russell quit his high-ranking post yesterday after Church told the house the attorney had solicited business for O. B. Taylor, former HOLC lawyer now practicing in Washington.

Church declared the letters had gone out free of postage, violating it to be the duty now of the postmaster general and the attorney general to collect the $300 penalty on each letter distributed.

In resigning, Russell said he now realized that the letter, which he explained he had prepared in a spirit of appreciation of services, was "subject to serious criticism." He and Taylor both denied any improper intent.

Four days after Judge James C. Rives dismissed the elder Coogan's petition of guardianship, Jan. 8, 1933, Jackie received the largest check written, up to that time, in favor of an actor. The check was signed by Joseph M. Schenck, and was for $500,000, an advance on a $1,000,000 contract calling for four pictures by Jackie over a two-year period.

"I recall indorsing that check," said Jackie. "It was impressed upon me that I was to be a good boy and earn that money."

"Regardless of what my mother said about me being a bad boy, I don't think my conduct warrants my being cut off without any money."

NEW DOG LICENSING PLAN PROPOSED TO SUPERVISORS

RANCHERS ASK CLOSER CHECK ON CANINES

Elimination of Rabies Menace Sought

Plans for a uniform dog-licensing ordinance to cover cities and the outside area of the county were discussed yesterday by county supervisors.

Sixteen thousand dogs in the county would be licensed each year under the new plan. Instead of for life as at present, a fee of $1 or less would provide funds for enforcement of the ordinance.

The question, discussed before by supervisors came up when E. M. Brown of the La Habra police department presented a petition signed by numerous north-county ranchers, asking control of dogs running at large to protect livestock and prevent spread of rabies, which has become a menace in Los Angeles county.

Dr. J. H. Bower, county livestock inspector, told the board he and Supervisor Harry Riley had been working on the program, which would call for installation of another pound in the northern part of the county.

A MILE of stop-and-go driving may be two miles or more to your engine. In "low" gear, your engine makes about 12 turns for each turn of your wheels. In "second," about 8... in "high," only about 4.

You drive a mile, but how far your engine runs depends on how many times you stop and start—how much of the mile is in "low" and "second." In these gears, you "eat up" gas!

Shell engineers found that getting away from a traffic stop can waste enough "undigested" gasoline to carry you 1/3 of a mile.

HANDWRITING CLUE TO OLD BURGLARY CASE

Through similarity in two handwriting specimens, Santa Ana police today were sure they'd solved a five-year-old safe-cracking case—but it didn't do them any good, because the statute of limitations has run out.

As a result of the handwriting comparison, looting of the McFadden-Dale hardware store safe on July 8, 1933, today was laid to Waldemar W. Matthieller, now facing trial in San Diego on a similar charge.

Detective Lieut. C. W. Wolford said no charges could be filed against Matthieller because more than three years have expired since the burglary, in which loot totaled $383.61.

The burglar, police records reveal, apparently was done by a man who registered at the adjacent Parsons apartments under the name, V. B. Sanders, Bell. At that time, the man told Mrs. Hazel McKay, proprietor, he wanted a room overlooking the roof.

The burglary occurred that night, when entrance to the store was gained by boring a big hole in the roof. The apartment house guest had fled, apparently through an open window, since his room was locked from the inside.

This week Wolford and Detective Hunter Leach took copies of the apartment register to San Diego to check with Matthieller's handwriting, and they agreed with Herman Zabel, county handwriting expert, that the signatures checked.

Brick Dust

Didja read about this scare-crow business in Costa Mesa? Sounds swell, with lots of fun and excitement promised.

The idea is to have all the farmers, amateur and professional, to enter scarecrows for competition, with swell prizes for winners. There'll be mama and papa and little girl and little boy scarecrows. Also funny ones, sad ones and some that actually are made to scare away birds.

After the competition is over, the dummies will be placed on exhibition in Boulevard park and there'll probably be a party or parade or something. Which'll be more fun for everyone but the scarecrows.

Rigged one up at home the other day in order to take a picture. Neighbor Chris Aaby came over to see the excitement and claimed the creation was exactly like a Skinny Skirvin, although it appeared a wee mite too well fed.

Which probably will even things up with a nasty remark made recently by our page one columnist when he hinted that Gaines turkeys were acquired from neighboring roosts and not from eggs. As a result of his remarks, I was expecting a deluge of visitors trying to identify missing birds, and so had to kill our family fowl!

In spite of the accusations, the turkey wasn't bad eating, however!

Word comes from Laguna that the Easter egg hunt there Sunday was huge success. Every egg was rooted out from hiding places, and prizes given many boys and girls who found lucky eggs.

Which is slightly different from the situation at my house, where eggs were so well hidden that four are still missing.

I'm preparing also to offer a lucky prize for finders of missing hen fruit. I'll have to get 'em before we have too much of this warm weather!

Also from Laguna comes bad news. Very bad.

Some mean kids tore the roof from the beautiful Girl Scout camp building and strewn—strewn—scattered salt, pepper and dishes all over the floor, cut all the screens and threw photographic records and similar equipment all over the place.

I hope when Chief Abe Johnson catches the marauders—and he will, I hear—that he puts 'em in Laguna's palatial pooch hotel for a while!

Bright news arrives from San Clemente, where my friend Uncle Dan Mulholland is still occupying the mayor's seat.

Uncle Dan told everyone the other night that his city is out of debt, which really is something!

It's been a long, hard grind. Every city department, almost, was snowed under with huge debts, but Dan and his council started to work, whittling down the total and avoiding bankruptcy by what ever happens to financially ill cities by hard work and thoughtful planning.

Everyone in the Spanish Village, I think, owes Dan and the council a vote of thanks. Maybe even they should raise their salaries, huh?

Also, I'm glad to see my friend Mayor A. Croxton Boice re-elected to his mighty position in Orange.

At least from the angle of a newspaperman, Mayor Boice has been a good "hizzoner." He's always been helpful when you're trying to dig up a story, and I think he's done a good job of mayoring.

(After that back-pat, I think I'll start a drive to have the mayor urge Chief of Police George Franzén up his hat to all newspapermen. Wouldn't that be fun?)

YOUTH DAY DATE IS SET

ORANGE.—Police Officer V. G. Wolfe, as head of the Youth Day committee of the 20-30 club, gained consent of the city council Monday to designate Thursday, April 28, as Youth Day in Orange, when the pupils from the high school will fill all city offices under the auspices of the club.

Mayor A. C. Boice announced his intention to issue a proclamation to that effect, and following this the students at the high school will hold an election, electing the various city officials from their number.

Not only will the youths run the city on that day, but they are promised a free dinner with the 20-30 club Wednesday night, and a ride on the nice red fire engine. The council also will be guests of the 20-30 club Wednesday night.

TOWNSEND NEWS, VIEWS

By WALTER R. ROBB

(This column deals with Townsend news and views. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

The big news of this week, from a Townsend standpoint, was the pardoning of Dr. Francis E. Townsend by President Roosevelt from the jail sentence imposed on him for having walked out of a congressional investigating committee hearing after having been refused the privilege of reading a prepared statement explanatory of the Townsend Plan.

The doctor had already surrendered himself to the United States marshal for the District of Columbia and was awaiting transfer to jail, according to news reports, when announcement of the pardon came from the White House.

C. Jasper Bell, Missouri representative, chairman of the investigating committee for which Dr. Townsend showed his contempt, and Sen. William Gibbs McAdoo of California were prominent among the many who importuned the President in behalf of a pardon for the doctor.

Col. Ralph D. Horton, speaking before a large audience in Santa Ana Townsend hall last Monday night, commenting on the above news, which was then fresh from the wires, characterized the pardon at a matter of political expediency on the part of President Roosevelt, but nevertheless of potential value to the Townsend movement from a publicity standpoint. When he asked the Townsend audience, after announcing the pardon, "Is everybody happy?" a great roar of applause sounded.

Concluding his eulogy of the Townsend founder in connection with the pardon incident, the speaker said, "The doctor is free; he is free, but not any more so than he was yesterday—he has always been free and clear from all but exalted and worthy actions and motives." He prophesied that the nation would now acclaim Dr. Townsend as the man of the hour needed for the crisis now confronting us.

WEST POINTS, Neb.—Jim Neary brought no fish home, but he did catch a chicken on his hook.

"Ah well," philosophized Neary. "I always did like chicken better than fish."

GO TO BALBOA

MIDWAY CITY.—Margie Field and her household, Frances Christopher of Los Angeles, spent several days of the vacation week at Balboa.

Peggy O'Toole, salesgirl in the bargain basement of Meritt's Department Store, is on her way some one day when a passing taxi splashes mud on her. When the young driver stops to apologize, she indignantly squeals at him. That evening, at night school, she is surprised to discover him in her French class, and learns that his name is Jimmie Butler. When he asks to see her home, she again squeals him. Meanwhile, she has become acquainted with the store owner's little granddaughter, Janice, who wandered down into the bargain basement that day while shopping with her governess. A few days later Mr. Meredith sends for Peggy to tell her that Janice took a great fancy to her, says that the governess has been dismissed for losing track of the child, and offers Peggy the position. When Peggy, resenting his patronizing attitude toward her, rejects his offer, he loses his temper.

"Hello, Red!" It was Janice. Peggy turned quickly. "Hello, yourself!" she said, leaning over the counter. "What are you doing down here? I thought you were supposed to stay upstairs."

Janice giggled and looked slyly at Miss Healy, who accompanied her.

"I screamed an' kicked an' made such an awful fuss up in Grandpa's office when he said I couldn't come down, but he was glad to let me."

"Peggy raised her eyebrows. "Oh, so that's the kind of little girl you are!"

"Thuh," Janice added, unabashed. "But I can be nice too."

"When you get your own way I suppose," Peggy said dryly.

"Oh, I can really be awful nice at times," the little girl insisted.

She scrambled up onto the counter, dangled her legs over the side, Peggy sat down and sized at her reproachfully.

"Do you think you were nice to your governess—making her lose her job?"

"Oh, she was an old witch, anyhow."

"Why, Janice?"

CHAPTER V

HER cheeks burning, Peggy returned to the bargain basement, there to meet the

"Do you think you were nice to your governess—making her lose her job?"

Janice pouted. "Well, I didn't like her—an' Grandpa didn't either. It was Mama's idea havin' her."

Then, she threw her arms around Peggy's neck. "But I like you, an' I'll always be awful nice to you when you come to live with us," she promised.

Peggy gently disengaged herself from the child's grasp, and rose. "But I'm not coming to live with you," she said.

Janice's mouth fell open. "Not—going? Why Grandpa said you were! An' whatever Grandpa says is so!"

"Not this time," Peggy said firmly.

"But you gotta!" Janice wailed. She ran to kick the side of the counter with her heels. "Mama says I'm always gonna live with what I want, an' I want you to come live with us!"

"It's not upstairs," Peggy snapped. "And I did not take it!"

Throughout the rest of the morning Peggy's offer of another job and her rejection of it caused excited discussion in the basement store. Peggy kept her lips tightly compressed, and her silence only added to the speculation.

IN THE afternoon, she had a visitor.

NEW LIBRARY SOUGHT FOR LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH.—Laguna may have a new library before the summer season, according to the report of Perry McCullough, member of the library board today.

An extra room had been planned for the present building housing the branch of the Orange County Free library but the board decided that because of its rapidly increasing popularity and circulation an additional room would be in need before summer.

McCullough said that the board favors raising or moving the present structure and erecting a larger and more modern building. Funds for more shelves were provided by the city council recently, but by adding shelves ventilation and light are further reduced, he said.

According to McCullough, the Laguna branch of the county library is growing faster than any other library in the county.

The little girl stopped in the midst of a wall, her eyes round.

Three Book Review Groups Meet

Ebelle's three Book Review sections, one of the Senior group and two Junior ones, had delightful meetings yesterday afternoon and evening, each with a particularly fine guest reviewer.

Seniors met in the charming home of Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh on Santa Clara street, with Mrs. F. C. Rowland and Mrs. W. E. Wadell as co-hostesses. Their reviewer was Mrs. Leslie Kimmell of Laguna Beach, who was introduced by Mrs. John T. Treadwell. Lovely flowers from the hostesses' gardens and from Mrs. C. F. Smith, Mrs. Perry Lewis, and Mrs. M. E. LeSourd were everywhere.

Mrs. Kimmell, prominent clubwoman and popular reviewer, who presents a weekly radio book review every Tuesday at 10:15 a. m. on KVOE, revealed an excellent critical ability and a delicate wit as she summarized and commented on "Brides Are Like New Shoes" by Anne Fisher, "Our Town" by Thornton Wilder, "The Yearling" by Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings, and "Farewell To Toinette" by Betina Harding.

The afternoon ended with a tea course with Mrs. Terry Stephenson presiding at the table which was spread with a point velvet cloth and centered with a Japanese arrangement of calla lilies. Delightful late in the afternoon was a group of solos sung by Mrs. Slabaugh in response to popular request. Her neighbor, Mrs. M. E. LeSourd, who was a special guest, accompanied her at the piano.

FIRST SECTION

Election of new officers for Junior Ebelle's First Book Review section was of interest, and resulted in Mrs. Alvin Stauffer being named to take over the leadership duties of Mrs. Gordon X. Richmond. Mrs. Charles McDaniel will be program chairman, and Mrs. Newell Vandermast will be treasurer.

The meeting was held at the North Ross street home of Mrs. Claude Brischill with Mrs. George Walker and Mrs. Harold Dale as co-hostesses. Colorful spring flowers of all description, several of them the gift of Mrs. Ray Tarr and Mrs. Edward Walker, were used to decorate, with larkspur dominating the central table. Refreshments were served in tray style.

Mrs. Robert Northcross chose to discuss more than a dozen outstanding publications of the year, analyzing each with respect to its lasting qualities. She cited as personal choices for enduring books of the past year "The Flowering of New England," "Of Mice and Men" and "Ferdinand." Others that she presented with comments of praise were "The Nutmeg Tree," "Prodigal Parents," "The Rain Came," "The Citadel," "Northwest Passage," "And So Victoria" and "Neighbor to the Sky."

The group will have a beach party at the Balboa Island home of the Albert Harveys in May. Present last night were the Mesdames Charles McDaniel, Fred Burlew, Albert Harvey, Crawford Nalle, Edmund West, Milton Poppett, Herbert Stroschein, James Truitt, Kenneth Price, Clarence Ranney, John Scripps, Chester Horton, Stanley Norton, Francis Norton, Gordon X. Richmond, Alvin Stauffer, Lynus Southwick, Newell Vandermast, Joseph Winder, Miss Mildred Spicer, and the hostesses, with Mrs. Robert Miller a special guest.

SECOND SECTION

The spacious R. G. Tutthill home on Victoria drive was scene of the Juniors' Second section's meeting, with Miss Mary and Miss Martha Tutthill being assisted in hostess duties by Miss Mary Nau, Miss Marian Brownridge and Miss Natalie Neff.

This group, too, is planning a social meeting and beach party for May, and hostesses will be Miss Mary Nalle, Miss Alberta Greene, Miss Luanie Carr and Miss Violet Holter.

Mrs. Ernest Crosier Phillips gave a charming review of "Madame Curie" as the featured program, and later presided over a tea table centered with violet iris.

Present were a special guest, Mrs. William Boyd; the Mesdames Hubert Gohres, Jack Rimel, James Merigold, Bruce Anderson, Robert U. Smith, E. Lee Smith, John Newman, Fred Perry, Charles Weber and Walter Bacon, and the Mesdames Helen Wiessman, Mary Nalle, Ruth Bradley, Helen Knox, Ruth Fitz, Alberta Greene, Betty Smith, Euanie Carr, Marian Hawk and the hostesses.

CLUB GIVES MEMBER SHOWER

When Mrs. Lawrence Hauptert was hostess to her bridge club last night at her home, 1155 West Eighth street, she turned the occasion into a layette shower for Mrs. Bert Banks, one of the members.

Following an evening of games, the guests were seated at a table centered with a large stork and at each place tiny baby carriages or booties in pink and blue crepe paper.

A large chest of drawers for the baby's clothes was given the guest of honor by the group. Members present were the Mesdames Jerry Hauptert and Estelle Schiesinger and the Mesdames Albert Markel, Walter Markel, Bert Hoffman, Bert Banks, Perry Davis and Burley Durbin, and three guests were Mrs. Peter Prager, Mrs. Huch McKemy and Miss Jean Gaspar.

Mrs. Tarbox's staff of officers, who with her, were elected by unanimous ballot following the report of nominating committee chairman, Mrs. R. G. Carman. Mrs. P. R. Arnold was named vice president, Miss Linda Kroeker recording secretary, Mrs. E. R. Leppel corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. D. Watkins, treasurer; Mrs. F. A. The five members named to the executive board were the Mesdames E. A. Elwell, I. B. Kruger, C. R. Walter, Glen Cole, and Miss Blanche Seely. Installation of officers will take place June 7 at an all-day session at the clubhouse. Mrs. Jessie Kenyon of Santa Ana was elected to membership in the club.

Mrs. William Kuhn read from the 11th chapter of St. Matthew instead of the club collect at the beginning of the meeting. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, and the club voted to purchase a rubber stamp to be used for tickets and other purposes.

Speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Bertha McCracken who gave a group of book reviews, starting off with the inspiring topic, "Life of Madame Curie" by her daughter, Eve, and closing with Amelia Earhart's "Last Flight." The courageous nature of women and some of the outstanding things women have done were told in Mrs. McCracken's reviews, which also included "Helen Keller's Journal," and a biography of Louisa May Alcott by Katherine Anthony.

A foundation fund tea and musicale will be held Saturday from 2:30 to 5:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. William C. Watkins, 1502 North Ross street. Garden section of the club will stage a flower show for the May 17 meeting. A benefit ways and means section plan to be held May 19 was announced.

If You Don't Like Dancing Don't Let It Worry You A Bit

A girl of 18 with a good sense of humor who is able to do many things should not let her inability to dance or, her desire not to dance, hinder her socially. There are many interesting things to do, and people to do them with, besides dancing.

Dear Miss Stoddard—I've read other people's problems in your column with interest and now wish to present mine:

I am 18 years old and out of school, but here is my three-fold problem:

To begin with I am very self-conscious and shy. I avoid large groups of people. They seem to frighten me.

But in a small group I can hold my own. I'm told I have a good sense of humor and I'm not afraid to look at, although I am about 30 pounds overweight. That's the second difficulty and the third, is dancing. I don't dance.

People think this is terrible. Yet, I've tried and I don't like it and so I don't do it.

I can do nearly everything else well and enjoy all sports. I can do many things that my friends who dance, can't.

Surely, there are other people who don't dance. I wish people would realize that dancing isn't the only pastime in the world.

Perhaps you think these problems are nothing at all, but to me they are real and I would like your opinion. Thanks, GIRL LOST.

Just lay your whole scheme of things around that sense of humor your friends tell you you have and you'll realize the full meaning of what I say when I tell you that no situation or no person is ever lost if a sense of humor is handy.

It's absurd to let the idea that you do not dance or do not care for it, handicap you. There are hundreds of bright, interesting people who do not care for dancing and they do not let it worry them, consequently it doesn't worry those with whom they come in contact. Since you do not care for dancing, why bother about "large crowds." Just stay in your own circle and scheme of things and leave the crowds to those who enjoy them.

MUSICAL ARTS CLUB HEARS TRAVEL TALK

Musical Arts club met yesterday at Daniger's tearoom for a luncheon and program. The singing of club songs during the lunch hour started the afternoon off in lively fashion. The American Legion quartet was present to sing a group of Hawaiian selections in keeping with the program of the day. The song arrangement was done by Miss Ruth Armstrong, director-accompanist for the group. Members of the quartet are the Mesdames Zora Kyle, Josephine Lykike, Zola Maag, and La Verne Van Wyk.

Musicians, both professional and students, are urged to submit original compositions which will be entered in a competition for the coming horse show music. Mrs. Calvin Flint, Mrs. Cecil Whit and Mrs. Leon Eckles will answer inquiries about this contest.

Mrs. Eleanor Elliott was speaker of the afternoon and her topic, "Reminiscences of Honolulu," was a delightful account of her own unusual personal experiences and observations of people and life there. As her two sons have lived in the islands for some time, her view was more than that of a tourist.

L. E. Behymer of Los Angeles was a guest of the club and gave a resume of a tentative list for next year's course of five varied events. Next meeting will be a benefit concert for the McDowell club fund to be given May 4 at the Y. W. C. A. and will be open to the public.

HOME IS SCENE OF WEDDING ON EASTER

Miss Martha Zaklet became the Easter bride of Charles Hezmalhalch of Fullerton at an afternoon ceremony at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. Zaklet, 2409 North Park boulevard. Father O'Brien of St. Joseph's church performed the ceremony, and the bride was given in marriage by her father. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hezmalhalch of 129 North Yale street Fullerton.

The bride wore a white satin princess style wedding gown and carried a bouquet of gardenias, lilies of the valley, and maiden hair fern. Matron of honor was Mrs. Hazel Sloan of Balboa who wore a turquoise lace dress with matching soft straw hat and satin slippers. Best man was Bob Hezmalhalch, brother of the groom.

A home altar was constructed of a pair of white candelabra, banked with lilies and roses in pastel shades, arranged by the bride's sister, Mrs. F. C. Sloan, and her aunt Mrs. C. N. Zaklet. Miss Lorraine Zaklet, of Placentia, niece of the bride, played the wedding march. The bride attended Santa Ana high school, while the groom went to high school in Fullerton, and to college in Arizona. He is a landscape gardener.

An Easter wedding dinner was served buffet style at the bride's home, to the thirty relatives and close friends present, before the young couple left for their honeymoon at Santa Catalina Island. The bride wore a going away suit of luggage tan, with beige accessories. The young couple will make their home at the La Marianna apartments in Fullerton.

A long table was decorated with colorful flowers, and Mrs. Glenn Lyeon, president of the group, presented Mrs. Mann with a lovely damask luncheon set as a farewell gift from the group.

After a social evening the members drove to the Masonic temple where they served refreshments to 65 DeMolay boys.

T-I-D-B-I-T-S..

By DR. MARY E. WRIGHT

Saw the R. N. Hockadays and Sally Suzanne eating Easter dinner at the Doris Kathryn Tea shoppe. The dear little four-year-old is going places. Lately, with brother Robert, she gave a musical reading with his piano accompaniment at a recent recital. She sings, too, with her eyes dancing and dark curls flying.

One of the growing flower shops had a big show room built around a huge redwood tree, a living thing of beauty, towering 125 feet skyward above the shop. The rough bark of the bole is a fine background for potted ferns and palms. The Easter window decorations of this shop were among the loveliest in town.

Otto Schroeder, orange grower on Lincoln street, has been collecting stones and ores for years as a hobby. He goes to the Chocolate mountains of the Chuckawalla range, 100 miles east of Salton Sea, and brings back boxes and boxes of rough looking stones that look dirty and drab until he cuts and polishes them. He uses a special diamond saw, and polishing wheels of corundum. Copper ore, malachite, azurite, jasper and agate and some crystals, amethyst, green and rose tourmalines are among the stones he finds. These are called geodes and some are hollow lined with white crystals while the more solid ones have centers of beauty, jasper and agate with flashes of deep red or azure.

Mr. Schroeder with a deep artistic sense, finds pictures in these lovely polished surfaces, of ocean and sky, with mountains or islands or desert scenes. His workshop in the basement is full of interesting implements and stones, though his finished treasures are in a cabinet in the home built by his father 50 years ago.

Saw a fine photo of that handsome young Santa Anan, James Parker Wilson, at the Hatzfeld home. James is assistant attaché in the agricultural department of the United States and is of the grade, Yugo-Slavia, and is "going places."

Have seen a number of new golden or yellow spring coats. Ann

YOUNG MUSICIAN BECOMES BRIDE OF BEACH MAN

Miss Ruth Elizabeth Coe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winfield Coe of 1457 Orange avenue, and Jack McAlary, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McAlary of Costa Mesa, were united in marriage Easter night at the Foursquare Gospel church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Parham.

The altar was beautifully decorated with white lilies, ferns and pastel blossoms. A lovely musical program preceded the ceremony. The bride wore a wedding gown of ivory taffeta and a Juliet cap with shoulder length veil attached. Her bouquet was of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Olive Coe, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a pink lace gown, carrying a French bouquet. The bride's attendants were the Mesdames Mildred Eckvold, Irene Newland and Georgia Williams of Santa Ana, Zella Muehligh of Hollywood, Dale McAlary of San Pedro, cousin of the groom, and Miss Mildred Glimmer of Hollywood. The attendants were gowned in pastel taffeta costumes.

Flower girl was Miss Charlotte Mushrush, who wore a pretty little yellow dress. Joe Carver was best man for the occasion while ushers were Phillip Grisett, Maris Newland, D. C. Dillingham, Wayne Hofer, Ronald Dollard and Ray Hill.

A reception at the bride's home followed the wedding. The young couple will make their home in Newport Beach following their honeymoon trip north. The bride who has been active in music circles here, is well known and the groom graduated from Newport Harbor high school.

She was attended by her sister Margaret, Mrs. Leason Pomeroy of Anaheim, Mrs. Dick Swank, Long Beach and Mrs. Vernie McBride of San Bernardino. ### I Just Found Out About House Mover

—By—
MILLARD BROWNE

Sam Talbert hitched his wagon to a house 40 years ago—and moved it from Long Beach to the new village of Los Alamitos. Today he has 100 people waiting for him to move their homes back to their former locations from where the flood carried them this spring.

The dean of Orange county's house-moving contractors (others are A. D. Moodie, Fullerton, and W. C. Moldenhauer, Stanton), Talbert figures he may retire this year after doing heavy construction and transportation all over Orange county for a good-sized lifetime.

Co-founder of the town of Talbert where he still headquarters, the house-mover claims there's no house in Orange county he couldn't move. "If it's poorly built, we re-base and support it; if it's too high we cut it off; if it's too big, we saw it in two," he explains.

Talbert and his men have moved everything from woodsheds to oil derricks, including bank vaults. Biggest job was last fall's assignment to transplant the Seventh Day Adventist tabernacle (45 by 113 feet, 30 feet high) onto the Lathrop Junior High school plant as an auditorium.

It took three weeks to handle that job. Talbert had to measure out the entire route before he put the tabernacle on the street, just to make sure it would have enough clearance.

Majority of the house-moving company's business is buying and selling. Talbert takes an option on an old house, sells it delivered to someone else. Original owners usually are glad to get rid of it cheap when they plan to buy a new house, since they otherwise would have to tear it down. And the prospective owner usually gets an inexpensive home, promptly put in working order.

Majority of the local house-moving is into the Costa Mesa area, where land is plentiful, cheap and good for small farming. These transplanted houses come from virtually every part of Southern California, often from an oil district where old homes get in the way of building operations.

Costa Mesa Tip Serves As Idea For Column Today

Thanks to Editor Nell Murbarger of the Costa Mesa Globe-Herald for the tip on Sam Talbert and his unique experiences as a house-mover. The "I Just Found Out" department welcomes suggestions for column topics—particularly such usable tips as that from Mrs. Murbarger.

Best customers for house-movers are Japanese farmers, many of whom make a practice of farming a lot three years, then picking up and moving on to a new field. Talbert has moved one such farmer's house nine times in the past 20 years.

Toughest part of a house-moving job is jacking the house up off its foundation and getting ready for the journey. In figuring price of a job, Talbert determines just how long it will take a crew of men to do the job, charges by the day.

Average time needed for a small 20-by-30-foot house is three days—one day to get ready, one to move, and one to "hand" the house on its new location. Anything smaller than that is just a "pick-up" for Talbert's men, who virtually "toss" it onto a truck and carry it as if it were an overgrown cracker-box.

Farthest Talbert's carried a house is to Elsinore, though he's often moved them all the way across Orange county, just finished taking one from Olinda to Costa Mesa.

UNIQUE DOLL EXHIBITED AT LOCAL MUSEUM

By GEORGE COVERDALE

More than 250 brilliantly-dressed dolls from a dozen countries comprise a fascinating exhibit at the Bowers Memorial museum. Among the contributors to the rare collection is Jane Withers, youthful film actress.

Dolls in the display are insured for approximately $5000, according to Mrs. F. E. Coulter, curator of the museum, through whose efforts the collection was made possible.

Using the theme, "all the world is a stage," Mrs. Coulter has arranged the dolls to depict a world tour. Countries represented are Mexico, Italy, Philippine islands, China, Hungary, India, Egypt, Japan, Holland, France, Poland, Russia and others.

One of the oldest dolls on display is 135 years with a Dresden head. Another Dresden doll, 42 inches tall and 60 years old, is the largest in the collection; the smallest is from Russia, and though only an inch tall, the limbs are pliable and features are in detail.

Prized for their rarity in America are several genuine clown and priest dolls. A proxy of the late King George is attired in a pair of tiny shoes, complete with laces. The footwear alone is valued at $10.

More than 700 county school children have attended the museum as part of their class work since the doll exhibition was opened two weeks ago, and reservations for other such groups have been made for three weeks in advance. The display will continue until June 1.

Showing currently with the doll exhibition is one on various types of animal transportation in miniature. Jane Withers' doll is a representation of herself. It stands about eight inches high. With it she enclosed her photograph with the inscription, "To the Charles Bower Memorial museum, my very best wishes. Love, Jane Withers."

Most of the doll exhibit was loaned to the museum by women: Miss Jean Gould of Los Angeles, Miss Blanche Collins of Long Beach and Miss Alice Ring of Pomona.

business is traffic, since motorists tend to become impatient if they have to follow a house down the road. Given clear sailing, Talbert's trucks roll up to 10 or 15 miles an hour with a full-sized house in tow.

Toughest building the house-mover ever had to handle was the old Tustin depot, which he transplanted across the street as an apartment house. It had double walls, was the heaviest building Talbert has wrestled with.

Red-tape is one of the biggest troubles for a house-mover, who must have business permits in every city in the county, must have inspections made before and after by city or county building inspectors. He also must post state, county and city bonds to make sure he'll be able to pay for any damage to streets or bridges.

Danger to bridges is the reason inspectors are most careful about weight. Talbert has never wrecked a bridge yet, but he often has to detour five or six times as far as the direct route in order to get smoother sailing for his huge loads.

House-movers frequently have minor troubles, like the time early this week when they cut a little too soon at First and Main street in Santa Ana. "Eight or 10 cops were standing around waiting for us to hit a lamp post," Talbert chuckled. "But we missed it."

PARNASSUS' FOOTHILLS
(Where the Muse Runs Wild)

(INVISIBLE) "LOVE"
I cannot write it,
Pretty poetry to you, my dear,
Concerning things like God,
Or love, a lovely rose or truth;
Not—with those things near.

No, not as long as
You are as and what you are, and care;
Why sing of love to you—
When life and all that's dear is music?

Songs are everywhere.
I cannot sing of Kindness, smiles, a moon in June,
and art;
Let birds create and sing
Their thoughts with fancy wording.
Mine? They're in my heart.

Four Santa Ana Students Have Roles in Pomona Play

Betty Heil, Janet Raitt, Geraldine Gilbert and Donald Watson, all of Santa Ana, who are attending Pomona college, are taking part in "The Quest," an epic drama to be produced in Bridges auditorium, 8:15 p. m., Saturday, April 23. Miss Gilbert and Miss Raitt are prominent members of a verse speaking choir which takes a leading part throughout the production. The choir is rated as one of the best choral organizations on the Pacific coast. Miss Heil will participate in the symbolic dances introduced to add glamour and rhythm to the drama. She is a member of the college honorary dance society. Watson is cast in a speaking part for the production.

Speaking Contest At Junior College Friday Afternoon

The annual extemporaneous speaking contest of the Eastern Junior College conference will be held Friday afternoon and evening at Santa Ana Jaycee.

Under the direction of Ernest Crozier Phillips, public speaking instructor here, seven colleges will compete with both men and women entered.

Representatives will be present from Riverside, Citrus, Chaffey, Pomona, Fullerton, San Bernardino, and Santa Ana Junior colleges. Each will enter a man and woman student.

The general topic for the contest is "Contemporary American Affairs, Limited to Political and Social Problems." Each contestant will be given an individual topic and allowed an hour in which to prepare his speech.

Phillips today issued an invitation to the general public to attend the contest.

Santa Ana Jaycee's male representative will be selected in competitive trials tomorrow afternoon. Those who are contesting are Isamti Masuda and James Bartlett. Harris Dalbec was eliminated yesterday. Christine Burbank will be the Dons' woman contestant.

CLERIC LAUDS ROTARY'S AIMS

Efforts of the Rotary club toward the integration of the good things in life may be compared to a similar objective of Christianity.

Rotarians heard this comparison at their luncheon yesterday in the Masonic temple from the Rev. W. J. Hatter, pastor of the Episcopal Church of the Messiah. The clergyman was introduced by Program Chairman W. C. Jerome.

Ed Yost told of his arrival and business activity in the theater business here and new officers and members of the board of directors were introduced.

Church Is Given Bible Made to Last 500 Years

CHICAGO.—A Bible made to last 500 years will repose permanently on the lectern of the First Presbyterian church in Lake Forest, a donation of W. H. Winterwood as a memorial to his wife.

Printed by Bruce Rogers in 1935 as the "supreme book of my career," the book is of paper manufactured in England by hand and has covers made from special skins imported from Africa. It weighs 50 pounds and is five inches thick.

The cacao tree is native to South America; but Africa now produces most of the world's cacao.

LOCAL CAMERA STUDIES SHOWN

Camera enthusiasts are being given an opportunity to view a cross section of local work in the Orange County Camera show now exhibiting at Santa Ana Public Library.

Prints were judged by Will Connel, Charles Kerlee and Frank Judson of Art Center school, Los Angeles.

First-prize winner was Ted Cook, columnist who lives at Laguna Beach. His head study is marked by a strong rhythmic pattern and almost microscopic detail. Second award went to Ivie Stein, Santa Ana, for his "Newport Bay at Night," while third prize was given Robert Ennis, newcomer to

MOVE PLANNED TO INSURE DIRECT CONTACT

Recent Collegiate Row Stirrs Officials to Act

By FRANK ORR

A telephone-radio network covering the entire county, allowing police departments of all cities to have radio communication direct to their patrol cars, was being planned today by county officials. The plan, similar to a private line now connecting the Santa Ana police department with KGHX, county police station atop the sheriff's office, would allow immediate communication between police stations and their cars, instead of the present delay caused by a regular telephone call to the station, then broadcasting of the message by the station operator.

Details of the plan were revealed when R. R. Hodgkinson, Newport Beach chief of police, appeared to ask the board for a continuation of a similar direct line installed between his department and Santa Ana, which he said proved invaluable during the recent Collegiate week commotion at the beach.

Huntington Beach, Laguna Beach and Fullerton also are very much interested in the plan, supervisors were told. Chairman Willard Smith said he had been talking with city officials and hoped to have a program worked out soon.

local camera circles, for his almost abstract head study.

The prints will be at the library for three weeks, giving way at that time to the exhibition of Millard Sheets' work that is to be a feature of Horse Show week, May 15th to 22nd.

Dons Represent Aztecs

It will be a miniature University of Santa Ana against Redlands and Whittier when San Diego State's Aztecs battle their two Southern California conference rivals in a dual track meet on Montezuma field, San Diego, Saturday.

Vernon Koepsel and Major Anderson of the '35 Dons will be representing the border college in the 100 and 440, respectively. Bob Durbin, S. A. J. C. distance ace of '34, will run the mile. Ernie Viaw, the former Orange High leather-jumper, will negotiate the two-mile. Johnny Raitt, Fullerton's bespectacled giant, and nephew of Dr. Emmett Raitt, of Santa Ana, will be favored in the shot-put and discus for Redlands, where he has starred for two seasons.

Not Elks, But Elks Soon

Darwin Scott, the likable little fellow they call "Scottie," has groomed an all-star Elks' team that is supposed to be comprised strictly of B. P. O. E. talent for competition at the annual state convention of the lodge this summer.

No less than seven of his softball satellites, however, are not members of the Elks, but they will belong to the anti-herd before the month out. Applications have been filed by the athletes, and they will be initiated April 26, the night the Elks, without noticing the conflict, booked an exhibition with Uncle Joe Rodgers' Huntington Beach Oilers.

Whether Rodgers will claim a forfeit, thereby spoiling Scottie's unblemished record including two victories over Santa Ana's Stars and an 18-0 drubbing of Anaheim, remains to be seen. Knowing Rodgers well, we believe he will agree to a postponement and forget about a forfeit. Joe likes to win his games on the field.

WOOD UPSETS DON BUDGE

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Sidney Wood, jr., of New York, trying to win back a place on the United States Davis Cup team, advanced another step today after beating J. Donald Budge in a one set exhibition match.

Yesterday's Stars

Arky Vaughan, Pirates—His ninth-inning homer, with man on base, beat Cardinals 4-3.

Cookie Lavagetto, Dodgers—Hit homer, two doubles, driving in runs in 12-5 win over Phillies.

Monte Weaver, Senators—Lined Athletics to six hits for 9-2 victory.

Cliff Melton and Mel Ott, Giants—Former pitched seven-hit ball. Ott whacked homer and double, driving in four runs, in 13-1 triumph over Reds.

Buck Newsum, Browns—Fanned five and pitched effective ball to whip Indians 6-2.

Boze Berger, White Sox—His single drove in two runs in 4-3 victory over Tigers.

Rip Collins, Cubs—Hit homer, double and two singles, drove in two runs and scored three in 8-7 win over Reds.

Lives Up to Promises

If you know Coach Bill Cook, you know the "Boy in Bronze" lives up to his promises. Before ringing down the curtain on a last year's thrilled season, in which the Dons successfully defended their Southern California J. C. football championship by finishing in a deadlock with San Bernardino's powerhouse elks, Cook promised his returning gridders another trip north in '38.

Today he completed arrangements for that trip—to San Mateo to play the northern junior collegians Friday afternoon, Nov. 18, with a flat guarantee of $500. The next day, his boys probably will serve as ushers, "stand in" for the California-Stanford "big game" at Berkeley. A special car will be attached to the train leaving Santa Ana Thursday afternoon, Nov. 18, to carry Orange County followers of the Dons. A nominal fare will be sought for the fans, Cook promises, with the undivided backing of the "Downtown Quarterbacks," President Phil Hay's newly-formed pep club.

Baseball Player or . . . ?

Perhaps you've heard of the Santa Ana man who thought he was mistaken for a major league player when, approached by a doubtful friend, he was addressed "Hi, Dizzy."

That takes first prize from the Dumb Dora who thought Babe Ruth was a chorus girl!

SHIP 'BISCUIT TOMORROW

SAN MATEO. (AP)—Seabiscuit, Charles S. Howard's black thunderbolt, will leave tomorrow for an eastern racing campaign that will include a $100,000 stake race May 30 with his money-winning rival, Samuel Riddle's War Admiral.

Accompanied by Trainer Tom Smith and jockey "Red" Pollard, Seabiscuit will arrive at Pimlico, Maryland, Saturday.

$52,466 REPAIR ON ROSE BOWL

PASADENA. (AP)—Pasadena's Rose Bowl, traditional scene of New Year's day football games, will be repaired and improved by a $52,466 WPA project starting tomorrow.

The bowl was damaged last month by a flood.

WRESTLING

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Bronko Nagurski, 235, Minnesota, defeated Vicente Lopez, 216, Mexico, straight falls.

INDIANAPOLIS. (AP)—Jim London, 265, St. Louis, threw Abe Coleman, 266, New York, straight falls.

VIKINGS DRUB DONS MINUS M'CLURE, 15-4

Playing without Jack McClure, their ace chucker, Santa Ana's Dons dropped their fourth consecutive practice baseball game to Long Beach Jaycees, 15-4, yesterday at Long Beach. The game closed their series with the Vikings.

The Dons, who have won one and lost one in the Eastern J. C. conference race, invade San Bernardino Friday afternoon.

Art Niehaus, who took over the pitching duties for six innings held the hard-hitting Western divisioners to six runs until the wild sixth frame, when six runs crossed the plate. Three more scores were chalked up against Art Heinisch, who relieved Niehaus.

Santa Ana scored one run in the first and third, and two in the seventh. Heinisch was the offensive noise for Coach Blanchard. Beatty's club with three hits, Charles Stafford connected for two safeties.

WOMEN SHARE GOLF HONORS

Women golfers shared honors in Class A and B play at the Santa Ana Country club yesterday.

Mrs. E. E. Baker, 94-9-85; Mrs. C. V. Doty, 96-11-85; and Mrs. P. H. McVicar, 96-11-85, were high in Class A. Mrs. Don Andrews, 95-19-79, captured Class B honors, with Mrs. N. W. Miller, 104-19-85, runner-up.

Student Baseball Manager Injured In U. C. L. A. Game

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Phillip Isham, 21, student manager of the St. Mary's college baseball team, was in Good Samaritan hospital today for observation of head injuries he suffered from a batted ball.

Isham was struck by a foul line drive in Monday's game between St. Mary's and U. C. L. A. A brain specialist is in attendance and his parents are coming here from Flagstaff, Ariz. St. Mary's officials expressed concern over Isham's condition, reported as a "semi-coma."

H. B. Woman Vies At Palm Springs

PALM SPRINGS. (AP)—Entry records fell today as nearly 200 women golfers signed up for the annual Palm Springs invitation tournament. A field of 125 will tee off Monday and another group will start Tuesday. Mrs. Harry Bakke of Huntington Beach is among the competitors.

Giants Uncover New Power in 8-7 Win

By GAYLE TALBOT

Ball-throwing residents governors and mayors were back at their appointed tasks today after playing their star roles in the opening day frills and fenderols that started off another major league baseball campaign.

Fans, totaling more than 200,000, witnessed yesterday's nine flag-spangled games, marking the general opening of the season after Monday previews at Boston and Washington.

GIANTS UNCOVER POWER

Two outstanding events pointed the gala occasion and had baseball bugs talking today—the rip-roaring batting attack unveiled by Bill Terry's New York Giants flattening the Boston Bees, 13 to 1, and the continued weak hitting of the world champion Yankees, who collected a total of only seven hits in splitting with the Red Sox.

It all was very disconcerting. The Giants, picked to fight for the National league pennant with Chicago because of their pitching and tight defense, spilled 16 hits off three Boston pitchers, including three home runs, while Cliff Melton easily held the Bees. The Giants had been hitting that way against Cleveland's crack staff in recent exhibition games, but nobody expected them to keep it up.

On the other hand, the Yankees, famed for their power, continued to look hamstrung with Joe Di Maggio out of their lineup. They won the morning game from Boston to 3, by a pinch hit by Red Ewing in the last inning, but made only five hits. In the afternoon Jack Wilson and Fritz Ostermuller blanked them 6 to 0, allowing the two-time champions only two safeties. Lou Gehrig and Bill Dickey went hitless for the day, and the anger of Owner Jacob Ruppert appeared to mount.

It blazed when he was informed that Di Maggio was willing to compromise on salary if the club would make the first move. "I should say not," he snapped.

About the only consolation for Yankee followers was the fact that the hard-hitting Western divisioners, their competition, Detroit and Cleveland, also had headaches today. Detroit dropped a tight one to the Chicago White Sox, 4 to 3, and the lowly St. Louis Browns spoiled Oscar Vitt's managerial debut at Cleveland by shelving the great Johnny Allen, 6 to 2.

In the other American league game, the Washington Senators made it two straight over Philadelphia's Athletics, 9 to 2, as Monte Weaver hurled six-hit ball.

'ARKY' HITS HOMER

The Chicago Cubs, with their new $250,000 beauty, Dizzy Dean, lending encouragement, came through with a hard-earned 8 to 7 win over Cincinnati to keep pace with the Giants. Rip Collins, Cub first baseman, belted four of his team's 15 hits off three Red pitchers.

Owner Phil Wrigley of the Cubs was scheduled to learn how much pitcher he got for all that money today when Dean was Manager Charley Grimm's choice against Cincinnati's Lee Grissom.

Meantime, Dizzy's former mates, the Cardinals, started off in that second division to which Bill Terry has assigned them by dropping their opener to Pittsburgh, 4 to 3. Arky Vaughan's home run with one on in the ninth did the dirty work.

The revived Brooklyn made Larry MacPhail look good temporarily at least, by walloping Philadelphia, 12 to 5. Doc Camilli hit one of the Dodgers' three home runs against his former comrades.

LUTZE 'MAD' AT MONTGOMERY

Nick Lutze, former captain of lifeguards at Venice, who returns to the local wars after an absence of many months, is really angry at "Tarzan" Bob Montgomery whom he meets in the main event tomorrow night at the Orange County Athletic club.

Lutze and Montgomery wrestled to a 45-minute draw last night at Wilmington, with Lutze continually complaining about the rough tactics used by Montgomery. After the bout, Lutze told arena attaches that he fully intends to even the score when the two meet at the Highway 101 arena.

Ex-Hammer Throw Champion Dies

NEW YORK. (AP)—William J. A. Rowe, 24, former National A. U. hammer throwing champion, died today after a long illness.

Rowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rowe of Pontiac, R. I., became an athletic star while a student at Rhode Island State college.

In the 1936 Olympics, he finished fifth in the international competition, but first of the Americans, with a throw of 169 feet, 3/4 inch.

BOXING

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Gunnar Barlund, 201, Finland, outpointed Chuck Crowell, 216, Los Angeles (10).

DETROIT. (AP)—Kayo Morgan, 120, Detroit, outpointed Sixto Escobar, 124, of Puerto Rico, bantamweight champion, (10), nontitle.

NEW YORK. (AP)—Bobby Pacho, 145, Los Angeles, outpointed Willie Pool, 146 1/2, Brooklyn, N. Y., (6).

TEDROW HITS 6:2; SAINTS WIN, 68-40

High-jumper Wendell Tedrow scaled 6 ft. 2 in. for an easy victory, as Coach Reece (Pinky) Greene's Santa Ana High school track-and-field brigade, capturing eight out of 12 first places, defeated Coach John Ward's Garden Grove preps, 68-40, in a varsity dual meet at Poly field yesterday.

The Saints also walked away with the Class B competition, 75 to 29, but dropped the Class C meet to the Argonauts, 44 1/2 to 41 1/2.

Pleasant surprise was Bob Frias' 4:56.5 mile victory for the Saints over Garden Grove's touted Barker, who made an excellent showing in the recent Southern Counties Invitational at Huntington Beach.

Worth Elliott, crack quarter-miler, remained out of his pet event to sweep the dashes.

Bob Allen again cracked the Santa Ana school record for the Class C 660-yard run in 1 min. 34.8 secs. Byram Bates won the Class B 660 in 1 min. 31.5 secs. The Saints' Clark won the Class B 1200 yard hurdles in 14.5. Garden Grove's team of Davis, Shinto, Ida and Cox won the Class C 440 relay in 50.2, and the Saints' Kenyon the Class B 1320 in 3 min. 43 secs.

880-yard relay—Cancelled by mutual agreement.

Pole vault—Mercurio (SA), Tedrow (SA) and Hamaker (SA) won on forfeit.

Shot-put—Won by Maddock (SA), Ward (GG), second, Hull (SA), third, Time, 44 ft. 8 in.

Cookmen Receive $500 Guarantee

By PAUL WRIGHT

Extended a flat guarantee of $500, Santa Ana Junior college athletic officials, acting on the recommendation of Coach A. J. (Bill) Cook, today accepted a home-and-home football series with San Mateo Junior college, long a power in northern grid circles. The Dons will open the intersectional rivalry at San Mateo Friday afternoon, Nov. 18, and complete it with a game in the Municipal bowl in '39 on a date to be set later. The travelling team will be guaranteed $500 for each contest.

CONTRACT TOMORROW

A telegram containing terms was received late yesterday, and a contract will be forwarded here tomorrow, Cook said. "This is the ONE game up north I really wanted," he told The Journal. "It ably high for his opener with Pasadena J. C. in the Rose Bowl Sept. 16, and for successive home exhibitions with Curl Yonel's Santa Monica Junior collegians Sept. 23, Los Angeles Junior collegians Sept. 30 and the U. C. L. A. Frosh Oct. 7.

THREE CHAMPIONSHIPS

M. S. McFadden coaches the San Mateo eleven, which has won three championships in the past five years.

Pointing toward the attractive schedule, which lists six conference games in addition to at least five practice ones, Cook is cracking the whip over 45 candidates, including 14 returning lettermen, in spring practice at Poly field. He hopes to schedule abbreviated games with Pomona college varsity, Pasadena and Pomona Jay-sees as a climax to the April and May sessions.

LIONETTES VIE IN HOLLYWOOD

Orange's Lionettes, deadlocked for second place in the Major Girls' Softball league of Los Angeles, go to the post at 7:30 tonight against the Cantlay-Tanzola club at Sunset field in Hollywood.

Miss Lois Terry will be on the mound for Coach Vic Baden's outfit, which meets Columbia Pictures Friday night. With two more victories, the Lionettes may be back in first place with Young's Market.

Don Trackmen Rejoined by Huntalas; Johnson in 880

Santa Ana Jaycees' informal track and field meet at Laguna Beach High school yesterday afternoon gave evidence the Dons will make things interesting for Fullerton here Friday afternoon.

No. 1 item of importance was Bill Huntalas' performance in the 100 and 220-yard dashes in which he was clocked in 10.3 and 23 secs. against a wind. Huntalas' leg muscle showed no signs of buckling as he eased through both sprints.

Jimmy Johnson, who has concentrated only on the quarter-mile, turned to the 880-yard run and was clocked in 2 min. 8 secs. without being pressed.

Walter Opp breezed in a good 440-yard victory. Huntalas, who may try the broad jump against the Horreys, led 19 ft. 3 in.

WE were pretty sure we had a great car when some months ago we checked the final blueprints on the 1938 Buick.

It had the new and mighty DYNAFLASH engine for sparkling action—the sensationally desirable TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING for a lullaby of a ride.

Looking ahead in that promising day, we figured we had every chance of getting our sales share by reason of what this car gave the buyer for his money.

Now, when times are sterner, it appears we built better than we knew—we've got a car folks just won't do without!

This great new Buick was first introduced to the public last fall. Through September, October, November, it sold in steadily increasing volume.

In a period when sales of other cars were sliding off it went ahead, in one month actually outselling one of the Big Three of the lowest-priced field.

It's still going ahead—not car Number Seven or Eight, as one might expect by its price-class, but one of the season's Four Best Sellers!

There is only one explanation of such a record when made by a car in the thousand-dollar bracket.

Such a car is so good—has so much of value in it—people just won't do without it!

They buy it not only in preference to other cars—they buy in preference to waiting for easier times and readier money-to-spend!

That's the convincing sort of car you're about to drive when you first take the wheel of a 1938 Buick.

If you haven't yet handled a new Buick, you ought to—just to see what such a car is like!

BURIED TREASURE . . .

Captain Kidd, Sir Henry Morgan and all other pirates of history were "pikers" alongside of the United States government—as far as hiding money is concerned. Strange as it seems, the government does with its gold exactly what pirates of old did—they bury it!

times interred on a lonely islet, significantly marked by a notched tree or other indication, today gold bullion is stored away in impenetrable underground vaults at Fort Knox, Ky. There lies $6,000,000,000 in gold—about one-half of the world's total supply!

The Fort Knox warehouse is believed to be the most invulnerable building in the world. Its vast vaults below ground are proofed against everything from termites to bombs. Secret devices known only to high government officials make a raid there a virtual impossibility.

Previously, the nation's gold had been stored away in Philadelphia, New York and other Federal vaults. Director of the Mint, Nellie Tayloe Ross, supervised the mailing by parcel post of the gold bricks to Fort Knox early in 1937.

First Things Should Come First

By spending four and one-half billions of dollars, as President Roosevelt requests, the government may provide temporary jobs for two or three million unemployed persons.

But permanent jobs for all unemployed, and better wages and greater security for all workers can be attained only through restoration of private investments and private enterprise.

That, we believe, is the objective of Mr. Roosevelt as well as everyone else in the country. In fact, the President said so himself in his message to congress.

In keeping with this logic, why wouldn't it be better for FDR to place first things first and turn his attention to releasing the many more billions of private investments rather than to put sole reliance on additional pump-priming.

Four and a half billion dollars is a whale of a lot of money. Yet compare it with some of the private spending and lending figures which were being talked of last fall before the recession took the elastic out of our suspenders.

Housing, $3,200,000,000—that is the amount which Mr. Roosevelt then suggested that the people of the United States could spend each year for the next five years, just catching up on America's housing shortage.

Railroads, $2,400,000,000—that is the amount which it was estimated the railroads could profitably spend each year for many years, if returned to a prosperity basis.

Utilities, $3,600,000,000—that is the amount which private utilities said they needed to spend to catch up on their construction lag and for one year's normal expansion.

Total, $9,200,000,000.

That is more than twice as much a year as the new spending and lending which the administration proposes. And it would provide twice as many jobs.

Yet that total covers only three of a multitude of industries—and in all of the others as well there is the possibility for huge private investments.

But as yet these big potentials of private expenditure have failed to materialize.

One reason, of course, is uncertainty as to what President Roosevelt is going to do about labor relations, dollar stabilization, taxes and the general administration attitude toward business.

If the President reassures industry and finance of his cooperation and help in meeting the mutual problem, we believe that the progress of recovery will be greatly helped.

America has the men, the methods and the money to bring about good times. What it needs in addition is confidence that private business can roll up its sleeves and go to work without undue impediment from the government.

With $750,000 sterilized bank credits released, the bankers ought to be glad to say "yes" to you.

A Road for Two Cities

It's downright bad news for Santa Ana that work on the South Main street extension job has been stopped.

The halt is due to transfer of $175,000 allotted for the job to the special fund for repairing and replacing highways washed out by the flood.

Word received by President Fred Merker of the chamber of commerce indicates that it may be a couple of years before the project is completed. It was to have been finished by this fall.

No more striking emphasis of the value that the cut-off will be has come to our attention than the remarks of James Quinn, building and loan executive, at this week's chamber member meeting. A business man at Laguna Beach recently told Mr. Quinn:

"I've noticed in the past few years that trucks from Santa Ana merchants are becoming scarcer in Laguna, while those from Long Beach are on the increase. It will mean a big thing to Santa Ana to get that cut-off through. Here in Laguna we want to trade with you, but it seems easier at present to drive right up the coast highway to Long Beach."

As a matter of fact, Santa Ana is miles closer to Laguna than Long Beach, but the road is not quite as broad and straight.

With the new link in, the drive between the two communities will be two and one-half miles shorter than it is now, and it will have all the attraction that a short cut has for any motorist.

Regardless of the state's decision, Santa Ana should not relax its efforts to get funds for early completion of this important cut-off.

Perhaps money will be found for the job in President Roosevelt's new recovery program if the chamber and other interested organizations go after it.

Cheer up, Dad, over those Easter hat bills. It's still 249 days until Christmas.

He Helps Us Sleep

How would you like to spend your life sleeping on a mattress without any bedsprings?

You might have done just that, if it hadn't been for a Yankee inventor, Tyler Howe. Howe is one of that vast army of unsung inventors who have invented devices which have made your life more pleasant, but of whom we never hear. Tyler Howe invented the spring mattress.

Back in Spencer, Massachusetts, they are putting up a monument over his grave. An appropriate motto to carve upon it would be, "Sleep well, good friend, sleep well."

Fair Enough

Pendergast And His Knighthood

By Westbrook Pegler

NEW YORK.—Prostitutes and professional gamblers of the underworld of Kansas City should rejoice at the news that Thomas J. Pendergast has been honored by Premier Benito Mussolini with the Order of Knight of the Crown of Italy. Mr. Pendergast is a good man and especially good to the ancient professions which thrive under the benign regulation of his police. He now becomes Sir Thomaso Pendergast, and the honor, such as it is, is singularly fitting, coming from one dictator to another.

Commandatore Pendergast received the ribbon and the insignia of the order from the hands of Alessandro Savorgnan, the Italian vice consul in St. Louis, who said: "The Italians know their friends and know how to show their gratitude." The word "vice" in Signor Savorgnan's title is merely a homonym, for it really means "assistant," but the ladies of the evening who sit smiling in the public show windows of the sin stores and the dealers behind the green tables of the gambling plants will be happily unaware of that. They are likely to sense an additional compliment, conceived with flattering old world diplomatic subtlety, to the man by whose word Kansas City has remained a wide-open town.

KNOW THEIR FRIENDS

As to whether the Italians know their friends and how to show their gratitude, Signor Savorgnan probably knows best. It must be noted, however, that as a nation Italy sometimes appears to dissemble her gratitude. She was a friend of Germany in 1916, but showed her devotion by joining the allies in 1917. Again, in 1917, she was a friend of Great Britain. As in the case of Sir Thomaso Pendergast, Italy, on that occasion, presented to various British soldiers and statesmen small tokens of her friendship—dangling from pretty ribbons. But less than two years ago, by Mussolini's order, the Italian children were being taught to hate everything British in 10 easy lessons.

Moreover, although Mussolini has proclaimed himself an ally to the west, he is not long since he suppressed the yodel as a subversive expression among his own captive Nazis in the Austrian Tyrol and was shooting numbers of them for attempting to achieve individual anchluss on foot over the mountain barrier.

CAPTIVES STILL HELD

The 250,000 surviving Tyrolean Nazis are still captives, forbidden to speak their own language or to yearn for anschluss out loud in any tongue, which is still another way that Mussolini has of showing his friendship, considering how wholeheartedly he claims to cherish the Nazis. So Sir Thomaso Pendergast may be permitted a few mental reservations in his remarks of gratitude on accepting the knighthood of the Order of the Crown of Italy.

Just what services he rendered to deserve the gesture it is hard to perceive from this distance. Signor Savorgnan did not say explicitly what Commandatore Pendergast did to deserve this gratitude, and it may be that Mussolini just wanted to indicate his general satisfaction over the adaptation of his ideas of government in one American community.

Naturally the members of the Kansas City underworld will construe the honor as an indirect compliment to them, and it would be a touching demonstration of the boss if they should all take to wearing small duplicates of the medal in token of their loyalty to the Missouri commendatore.

Mussolini would be nothing without his subjects, and Sir Thomaso never could have carried the Duce's admiration without the support of his people, including the ladies in the display windows of the sin stores and the stick men at the crap tables.

Some regimental commanders receive great personal honors, donate them to regimental headquarters as belonging to the humblest as well as the mightiest. It would be a touching act of humanity if Sir Thomaso should turn over his order to the crown of Italy to be hung in some parlor house reeking of perfume or some gambling cellar within the protectorate of his machine.

DISCIPLINED HUNTERS

Eight residents of New York state have just lost their rights to hunt and fish for from one to ten years as a result of a regimental headquarters as belonging to the humblest as well as the mightiest. It would be a touching act of humanity if Sir Thomaso should turn over his order to the crown of Italy to be hung in some parlor house reeking of perfume or some gambling cellar within the protectorate of his machine.

Such excuses for taking human life as "I thought I was shooting at a deer" don't go in New York—not since the 1937 law was enacted. Nor should they in any other state. California might well enact legislation modeled on the New York statute. Every deer or quail-hunting season in this state is marked by several deaths. Knowledge that killing or injuring another person means loss of the hunting privilege doubtless would carry much more weight with many hunters than does the moral obligation to take no risks afield.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—William R. Nelson, editor of the Kansas City Star, was not guilty of malice in the publication of an article for which he was adjudged guilty of contempt last February. The Missouri supreme court found today. The article commented on an order of Circuit Judge Joseph E. Guthrie denying the plaintiff in a divorce action the right to dismiss her case until the husband complied with the conditions imposed in the order.

WASHINGTON.—Secretary of State Bryan wired today to Governor Hiram Johnson of California, requesting him to withhold his signature from any anti-alien land legislation passed by the state legislature which might violate treaties between the United States and Japan.

EL PASO.—The Mexican federal garrison at Juarez found itself in a predicament today. Someone had made away with the ammunition and the breech locks of all cannon and machine guns, making the pieces useless.

BRUSSELS.—Twelve millions is the estimate of loss during the six days of the political strike. The strikers, numbering 400,000 socialists, appear prepared for a long struggle, and they are firmly opposed to accepting any compromise.

My Uncle Hod is a politician down home and the other day he wrote me a letter and said, "I've got a job on one of them investigatin' committees and I was never so busy in my life. When I ain't investigatin' I'm busy dodging the committee that's investigatin' me."

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

Big Spending Group Fears Recovery Program Insufficient; Big Inventories Must Be Sold

WASHINGTON.—You hear a lot of yelling on Capitol hill against the recovery program. But some strong arguments which you don't hear—because they come from the inner circle—are just the opposite, namely the fear that spending will not go far enough.

The big spending group is led by Marriner Eccles, chairman of the federal reserve board. Close cohorts are PWA Administrator Ickes, WPA Administrator Hopkins, Senators Wagner and LaFollette, and Rep. Maury Maverick.

The little spending group is led by Jesse Jones, head of the RFC, Vice President Jack Garner, Senator Carter Glass, and the old guard Democrats. Their arguments already have been well publicized.

Less publicized are the arguments of the big spenders, which follow: On the shelves and in the warehouses of American industry today are excessive inventories of manufactured goods and raw materials, so that when buying resumes it will be these stocks which will be sold. Their sale, however will not create employment.

What is needed, therefore, say the big spenders, is a spending program large enough not only to absorb these inventories but to encourage new production.

Marriner Eccles urged that a billion dollars be spent last winter, claimed that this amount spent soon would check the recession. But his group fears that now, with the lapse of time, even the $2,750,000,000 relief and public works program will not be sufficient.

Roosevelt agrees that there may be considerable merit to this argument, but being up against the tough reality of a rebellious congress, he is steering a middle course between the big and little spenders.

BUYERS' MARKET

Meanwhile John Hanes, brilliant new member of the Securities and Exchange commission, has produced a formula for getting rid of the big inventories: sell them at the nation's warehouses.

He points out that present low prices are partly psychological, and result because the buyer expects prices to go even lower. In other words, it is a buyers' market.

Since the manufacturer cannot hold out indefinitely without selling goods, the buyer figures that the longer he waits the greater the likelihood of lower prices. If he is shrewd he probably knows that the manufacturer has borrowed from his bank, and that with no market opening up, the bank is likely to ask for something on the loan. At this point the manufacturer either has to cease production, or enter the distress market.

This is what is keeping prices down and handicapping recovery all over the country. Commissioner Hanes' solution for this is to have the Reconstruction Finance corporation take over 90 per cent of the loans which any local bank has advanced to a manufacturer on these terms:

The manufacturer could borrow up to 80 per cent of his cost of production and up to 25 per cent of last year's production—in other words, three months' production. This latter provision is inserted in order to prevent any manufacturer from speeding up production too far ahead of the market.

Theory behind the plan is that as long as the manufacturer is sure of reasonable credit from his bank, he can keep prices up and does not have to sell at a sacrifice.

The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is active, the politicians and people sit up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent, fair discussion of our problems is immensely useful. So that every citizen may have his say and contribute to the formation of public opinion, The Journal invites letters to The Mailbag. Please limit communications to 350 words.

PRODUCTION FIRST

To the Editor: In a recent issue of The Journal, Mr. Sharpless Walker thought: "It is astonishing and regrettable that J. P. Baumgartner recently lent the influence of his prominent name to the error, casuistry and incongruity of increasing wages does not increase purchasing power, a theory faulty and illogical on its face, and proved unsound by experience."

I don't know what Mr. Walker's experience has been, but from my 40 years experience—and in not such a small way—in the manufacturing line of industry, manufacturing, buying, selling, having to do with factory labor and wages, the cost of production, and selling prices, I contend that an increase in wages without first an increase in production will not increase purchasing power. It would tend to lower purchasing power as prices would advance, which in turn would lessen demand, slow down production, and finally, lower wages, or no wages at all. There is absolutely only one way to increase purchasing power and that is by production. As production increases, employment increases, wages increase, and cost to consumer will decrease. It's the quick turn-over of money that increases profits and increases purchasing power.

Mr. Walker says: "Henry Ford, more than 20 years ago, stated and proved that raising wages increased purchasing power to buy clothes, furniture, food, and autos in the lower price field."

Henry Ford did increase wages that in turn increased purchasing power, in this way. In the ten years from 1906 to 1916, he had increased production from six cars a day to 9000, and had increased wages from 2 dollars a day to 7 dollars a day minimum. As his production increased, the employees' wages were increased.

Continuing, Mr. Walker says, "meanwhile, while paying high wages, he (Ford) evidently has been able to keep the wolf from his own door, and 2 per cent of the people have continued to acquire 85 per cent of the profit producing wealth of the nation."

Let's see what the Ford Motor company has to say about this 2 per cent of the people. November 26, 1936: "Who owns the United States?" "Who gets the national income?" Propaganda claimed that 2 per cent of the people had gobbled up 80 or 90 per cent of the national wealth; refutation came so slowly that we decided to give the facts over the air. Theafter the falsehood was seldom heard again.

"We could, and did show that 72 per cent of the nation's wealth is in the hands of the people—there is certainly more than that, but we did not go beyond official figures, and the personal income does go to those who produce it, but even so, everything remains exactly as before. No one has any more property, no one had any more income."

Briefly, let's see which comes first, production, or wages. Take an orange grove that has produced a big crop giving employment to many directly employed in the grove and about 5 times that number indirectly employed outside the grove all along the line up to the consumer. The big producing crop meant employment to many, wages, circulating of many thousands of dollars, and lower prices to the consumers.

The second year this same orange grove failed to produce a crop. So, no employment, no wages, no flow of money, and higher prices to the consumer on account of lack of production.

And again, take 100 men, all out of employment and each one owing $10 and no money to pay. There's plenty of money, but of account of the present tax grabbing system it's afraid to venture out. Finally man No. 1 did get a $10 job, so he immediately started this $10 on its way by paying man No. 2, and he paid man No. 3, and so on down the line until it had reached the one hundredth man, and all were out of debt, all on account of man No. 1 having been able to produce to the amount of $10, which by circulating, the same $10 it paid 100 men, or $1000 a day, and the $10 is still going on.

While the above are only simple illustrations, they should prove that the flow of money must start first from production. Money never brought anything but yet produced. J. A. AUERMAN, 2454 Riverside drive, Santa Ana.

APPLAUSE?

Fritz Kreisler, the renowned violinist, was once called upon to play before the Sultan of Turkey. Throwing himself with enthusiasm into his task, Kreisler felt immensely flattered when, in the midst of a piece, the Sultan began to clap his hands. The more he played the louder the Sultan clapped.

It was about to begin another selection when the Grand Vizier rushed to his side and, grasping the violin, whispered, "Do you wish to lose your head? Don't you hear His Majesty clapping his hands?"

"Well—what of it?" asked Kreisler, puzzled.

"What of it? Why, the Sultan is giving you the signal to stop!" —Christian Science Monitor.

Arthur Kudner, New York advertising man, told me a story the other day about a wild steer on a Wyoming ranch. He was a tough customer. The other steers in the herd had been rounded up and taken to the corral for the winter—all except Wild Bill.

Time after time Wild Bill charged through the line of riders and returned to the range. For two seasons he had won out. The best man on the ranch had gone out to subdue him and had failed. Never, in all their history, had the men seen such an obstinate, fighting animal.

HE HAS IDEA
Finally one of the ranch hands came to the foreman and said, "I think maybe I got an idea. I figure I can get Wild Bill to the corral."

The foreman told him to go ahead and try, if he wanted to. The man asked one of the other cowpunchers to cooperate with him. They got a burro and, leading him, started for the rebel steer. At last, he was found and roped.

There they were—two hundred pounds of dynamite steer, and a small grey, shaggy burro about half his size.

The cowboys got the burro up close to the steer, tied the two necks together, allowing room for each to move freely.

Then they turned them loose. The steer didn't like this object hanging to him. He leaped and kicked and threw the poor little burro all over the landscape. But the burro hung on. Each time he was thrown, he patiently got up.

STEER DASHES
The steer dashed for a scrub oak intending to brush this fly off for good and all, but the burro gave a kick, twisted and succeeded in using the tree.

The little burro had a most valuable quality. Persistence. He allowed nothing to discourage him. He knew what he wanted to do, and he wasn't going to be outdone by two hundred pounds of bull man.

He kept at it, hour after hour, day after day—always one step nearer the corral. The burro never had a college education, but he did have one of the prime ingredients for success. It was persistence, and his persistence won.

One morning the ranch hands went out to the corral. There stood the small, grey, shaggy, little burro with Wild Bill tied to him!

AN OLD BOOK

Recently the Macmillan Publishing Company did a very fine thing. They reproduced an old book of John James Audubon's of birds of America. There are just a few originals left and they are priced at $1500. Macmillan sells their reproduction at $12.50. The company probably will not make any money. In publishing these books they are only doing what many of our high-minded publishers do from time to time—printing some book because it should be in circulation and not because it is a money maker.

Particularly useful in the nursery and the sickroom is a newly-patented bottle in the side of which is an indicator showing the temperature of the contents. The thermometer is insulated from exterior temperatures by an air chamber. Mothers would find the bottle makes it possible to give the baby its milk at the proper temperature.

IT'S ODD

But It's Science

BERKELEY, Calif.—In the excitement about movie stars dodging California's floods, nobody said anything about what was to become of the dirt and rocks washed down the hillsides.

But one man in California knows. He is Andrew C. Lawson, professor of geology at the University of California. He found out by studying river deltas, and some of the findings were interesting. Deltas are where all the muck rock and other erosion ultimately land. Dr. Lawson measured what actually happened along 18,000 miles of seacoast. He learned that the delta which sightseers can view is just a tiny bit of the real deposits of rivers.

Beneath the river, the delta extend on the average 30 miles out to sea. The depth to their bottoms is usually around two miles. After the thickness piles up to six or seven miles, the delta usually sinks.

That is, its weight causes formation of a deep trough. This geologists call a geosyncline. Later the contents of this trough are likely to be squeezed up by earth forces and appear as mountains rising above the sea.
